Victor Hugo and the Fenians

In compliance with a request made to him from Dublin, M Victor Hugo has addressed the following letter "to England."

There is anguish in Dublin. Sentences of death follow fast one upon another. A letter now before us says: "The gallows is about to be erected, first for Gen Burke, next will come Capt McAfferty and Capt McClure, then three others, Kelly, Joice and Cullinan. There is not a moment to spare. Women, young girls implore you. Will my letter reach you in time?" We read this and do not believe it. They tell us the scaffold is ready. We reply that is not possible—Calcraft has nothing to do with politics. It is bad enough that he exists apart from it. No, the political scaffold is not possible in England. When England hailed Kossuth it was not that she might imitate the gibbets of Hungary; it was not for the purpose of renewing the hangings of Sicily that England glorified Garibaldi. Else what would signify the hurrahs of London and of Southampton? Put an end to it—it was so, to all your Polish, Greek and Italian committees. No! England in 1867, will not execute Ireland. That Eliza both will not behead that Mary Stuart. The nineteenth century exists. Hang Burke! Impossible! Go, copy Taliaferro killing John Brown, Chacon killing Lopez, Geffrard killing young Delorme, Ferdinand killing Pisacane? What! after the English Revolution! after the French revolution! in the great and luminous epoch in which we live! So, then, nothing has been said, nothing written, nothing thought, nothing proclaimed, nothing done within the last forty years. What! such things shall be done in the presence of us who are more than spectators, who are witnesses! What! the old savage penalties shall still subsist! to this hour such sentences as these shall be pronounced, "Such one, on such a day, you shall be drawn on a hurdle to the place of your punishment, then your body shall be cut into four quarters, which shall be at the disposal of Her Majesty, who will command to be done with them according to her good pleasure!" What! on a May or June morning, to-day, to-morrow, a man, because he has a political or national faith, because he has struggled for that faith, because he has been vanquished, shall be bound with cords, shall have a black cap drawn over his face, and be hanged and strangled until death ensued. No! you are not England for that. You have at present this advantage over France, that you are a free nation. France, as great as England, is not mistress of herself, and that is a sad diminution. You pride yourself upon it. Be it so! But beware. It is possible to go back a century in one day. To recede even to the political gallows! You, England! Then erect a statue to Jeffreys. Meanwhile we will erect a statue to Voltaire. Do you give it a thought? You have Sheridan and Fox, who founded parliamentary eloquence; you have Howard, who ventilated the prison and made punishment merciful; you have Wilberforce, who abolished slavery; you have Rowland Hill, who vivified postal currency; you have Cobden, who created free trade; you have given to the world the colonizing impulse, you have constructed the first transatlantic cable, you are in full possession of political manhood; you exercise the grand right of citizenship magnificently in all its forms; you have a free press, free speech, freedom of conscience, freedom of association, free trade, household freedom, personal freedom; you are about, through reform, to arrive at universal suffrage; you are the land of the vote, the poll, the meeting; you are the mighty people of the habeas corpus. Well, then, to all this splendor add this: Burke hanged, and precisely because you are the greatest of free peoples you become the least. It is unknown what a ravage one drop of shame makes in glory. From being the first you sink to be the last. What means this inverted ambition? In presence of these gibbets, worthy of the insanity of George III the continent would no longer recognize the august Great Britain of progress. The nation would turn away their face. A frightful blunder against civilization would have been committed, and by whom? By England! Lugubrious surprise! Stupor of indignation! What more hideous than a sun whence all at once night should issue? No, no, no! I repeat, you are not England for that. You are England to set an example to the nations of progress, work, initiative, truth, right, reason, justice, the majesty of freedom. You are England to present the spectacle of life, and not the example of death. Europe recalls you to your duty. To speak at this moment in behalf of these condemned men is to come to the aid of Ireland; it is also to come to the aid of England. The one is in danger as regards her autonomy, the other as regards her glory. The gibbet will not be erected. Burke, McClure, McAfferty, Kelly, Joice Cullinan, shall not die. Wives and daughters who have written to a proscribed man, it is needless to make yourselves black robes. Look with confidence on your children sleeping in their cradles. It is a woman, dressed in mourning, who rules England. A mother will not make orphans, a widow will not make widows.

ITS ORIGIN.—The New York Times, has this allusion to the term "bottled up," which was applied by Gen Grant to Gen. Butler:

Gen. Butler claims for himself the authorship of the phrase, brought prominently before the public in an official report by Gen Grant, that his army was "bottled up" in Bermuda Hundred. Gen Butler says that he was reduced to a condition of complete inactivity by the order of Gen Grant, requiring him to send to him 17,000 out of the 25,000 troops under his command, and he says that he himself complained at the time that he was thus completely "bottled up"—and that the phrase, becoming current at headquarters, was embodied in the correspondence of the New York Times of that date. We find on recurring to our files, that on the 1st of June, 1864, we published a letter from our correspondent, mentioning the fact that a portion of Gen Butler's command had been detached by order of Gen Grant, and placed under command of Gen Smith—to which was appended the following comment: "The enemy will not fail to see that Gen Butler has been materially weakened. It is probable, therefore, that the rebels will change their attitude from defensive to offensive. Should they attack, and fail to crush Butler they may get whipped themselves. In such a case the Union army, now bottled up between the James and the Appomattox would have another chance to run and might get to Richmond." This certainly shows that the expression had been used in the army long before it was embodied in the official dispatches of Gen Grant.

Connected with the Pacific Woolen Mills at San Francisco, is a department for the manufacture of knitted goods. From a description of these knitting machines, given in the Bulletin, we take the following:

Of these, there are six large shirt making machines and four machines for drawers. There are fifteen machines for stockings and two compound stocking machines, equal to twelve single machines, one kind making ribbed and the other plain goods. The total capacity of the stocking machines is equal to producing 100 dozen assorted stockings, and the shirt and drawer machines to the production of 50 dozen per day of 11 hours. There are also three sets of winding machines on an entire new principle for supplying the knitting machinery. These machines are also regulated so that any imperfection in the thread causes it to break, so that when the winders are put on the knitting machines there are no stoppages from broken thread. The stocking machines are arranged so economically as regards labor that one man attends ten machines for making stocking legs, while the five footing machines require one man each.

Sarah M Cowperthwaite, of Danville, Conn, wishes information of her husband Franklin Cowperthwaite, whom she last heard from while he was in Dalles City, Oregon. She is bed ridden and destitute. Idaho and Oregon papers are requested to copy and any person who knows of Cowperthwaite's address or whereabouts is requested to forward information to his poor wife, at Danville, Conn.

Jay Cooke & Co have recently made an investment in Minnesota, being the purchase of 100,000 acres of pine lands, on the St Louis river. They will immediately erect a number of mills for the manufacture of lumber to be shipped to Milwaukee, Chicago, and the Eastern market.

A Veritable Enoch Arden—A Domestic Episode in England

Mr Tennyson has portrayed in language graphic and beautiful the vicissitudes and noble struggles of Enoch Arden on behalf of his wife, and the deep sorrow felt by that hero on his return home after an absence of years, on discovering that she had taken to herself another husband. A similar circumstance had transpired in this neighborhood, but the subjects of our story are not of the same high and lofty character as those depicted by the poet. It appears that about eleven years ago the husband of a Mrs Watts, living at Dragon Villa, Gilesgate Moor, near this city, sailed for America in search of that wealth which he had failed to meet with in this country, and after gaining it he promised to return, so that he might live upon the fruits of his labors. However, from some unexplained cause or other, he forgot upon his arrival among our go-ahead cousins across the Atlantic to communicate with his wife whom he had left behind, and the coffers of wealth which she had expected to hear of, it was feared, had sunk with her husband in the ocean.

Year after year passed away, and no tidings of Watts could be heard, and his wife and his two children had to struggle on as best they could. At the end of seven or eight years all hopes of his being in the flesh were given up, and a person by the name of Wallace turned up that wooed and won the neglected dame. They lived happily together for four years, and the partner of her first love was entirely forgotten. One day last week, however, Watts returned to his native place, but, unlike Enoch Arden, after ascertaining the change that had befallen his wife, did not cry for help to prevent him "breaking in upon her peace." He went boldly to the house and made himself known, but his appearance, it would seem, did not improve her very favorably, and the reception he met with was not of the kind which might have been expected.

His wife, now Mrs Wallace, as was natural, felt greatly startled at his appearance, but the interview which took place between them did not awaken any of the old feelings which first caused them to be made one, and she preferred keeping on with the new love and discarding the old. She had, however, some slight compassion for her delinquent lord, and told him she would give him a meal of meat, a night's lodging and set him off with a shilling in his pocket, which, said she, "is more than thou hast done for me for the last eleven years!" Not having gained too much of this world's goods in his wanderings, he accepted her generous offer and took shelter under her roof for the night. Cogitating upon his present condition, as he doubtless would when laid to sleep, but whether he got any or not, we have not heard—he appears to have resolved not to part with his wife without an effort, for on rising next morning he strongly asserted his claim, which terminated in his summary ejection from the domicile, ending with a polite kick from behind, from which, like the Irishman, he gathered the hint that his company was not wanted.

We are informed, however, that Watts is unwilling to accept this unceremonious proceeding as a settlement of his claim, and, as both husbands are said to have consulted the lawyers upon the matter, we may yet hear of the adjustment of the dispute in a more legal form!

PORTRAIT OF MRS JAMES GORDON BENNETT.—Olivia, Forney's successor, gives us this paragraph in her New York correspondence of the Philadelphia Press. She is talking about the new diamonds at Tiffany's:

Here is a tall, stately woman, dark and swarthy as Cleopatra, with hair lifted entirely from her brow, and a braid, just the least frosted, but thick and heavy as a ship s cable, coiled around her head, with heavy golden row-boats suspended from her ears in place of ear rings; a sky blue silk petticoat, with a black silk over skirt, and bracelets heavy and strong enough to have chained Andromeda to the rock from the beginning of time to this day. She has taken off her dainty kids, and the wonder is, how did she manage to get them on over those magnificent diamonds? She looks at the "Esterhazy's," she glances at her own flashing hands, and then says: "Why, these diamonds don't compare with mine." Any American must exult with her. This daring remark has summoned a man from some unseen quarter like magic who says: "You remember, Mrs Bennett, you bought your diamonds when we could afford to sell a good single stone for sixteen to eighteen hundred dollars in gold." This most distinguished looking woman is Mrs James Gordon Bennett, of the New York Herald. She is attended by a very small man who wears an eye glass, and carries a very slim cane, and she consults him from time to time, after the fashion of David Copperfield s sturdy aunt and Mr Dick.

NEGRO DEFINITION OF RADICALISM.—At the Republican meeting in Trenton, New Jersey, recently, Mr Ware, a Philadelphia negro, pithily said: "Radicalism is this: If you don't give it what it asks, it will take more." Upon the above, the Providence Journal comments as follows: "There might be a worse definition than this smart epigram of our colored brother. Radicalism demanded the freedom of the Territories, no more. They did not give it and Radicalism took the whole Union. Radicalism demanded the Constitutional Amendment. They did not give it, and Radicalism has put the Rebel States under military rule. Radicalism now demands the acceptance in good faith of the Reconstruction Acts of Congress. They can give it or not. They may be sure that if they don't, Radicalism will take more and still more. The best time for the rebels has always been the present. They have always lost by postponement, and it was never plainer than that they will only lose by it now."

Mr. Gilmore ("Edmund Kirke") stumbled into literary success. He was a quiet mercantile man, and had been connected with trade all his life in the South and in New York City. His residence was at Orange, N J , and his literary ambition extended no further than to the reading of a "lecture" before his fellow townsmen. Having acquired some property in trade a mere chance led him to invest a part of his means in the purchase of the old Knickerbocker Magazine in connection with a wealthy New Yorker. He acted as business manager and tried his hand at the story "Among the Pines" merely from an economical motive, and to save the expense of getting some one else to write a serial. It proved a success, was issued in book form, made the author famous, and lined his pockets with greenbacks, to his own great surprise.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A STREAM.—The inhabitants of St Jamier, Dauphine, in France, were astonished not long since to see the bed of the stream which traverses the village quite dry. The Labi, as it is called, takes its source from the waters of a cascade, and makes its way to the Isere through a pretty valley adorned with trees. The explanation of the phenomenon appears to be that the soil at the foot of the rock from which the cascade falls is somewhat unstable, and from the constant moisture a subsidence of the soil has taken place, and the water now runs into the ground, a considerable quantity of earth having washed into the valley. Very little damage has yet been done and the authorities are taking precaution to prevent any disaster or landslip.

This freak of nature is reported by the Louisiana Journal, June 17th:

A hen crossed between Shanghai and Brahma, belonging to Mr John J. Arthur, of this vicinity, has laid several eggs within the past few weeks which lay over anything we ever heard of. At first appearances one would conclude that they were goose eggs, being about the size, but upon breaking the outside shell another egg is discovered within the size of an ordinary hen egg, having a smooth hard shell, and complete in every particular. The outside egg has its white and yellow also.

The Memphis Post illustrates a good deal of the professed antipathy to colored people, by relating that the Sheriff of Henry county, in Tennessee lately arrested a party of high toned chivalry by calling to his aid a posse of colored men. The chivalry objected stoutly to such deputies and felt themselves disgraced by the colored men being called upon to aid in their arrest. But it turned out that the crime for which they were arrested was going to a dance of colored people and committing a heinous crime upon the colored women.

The Air Gun—Its Mechanism and Destructiveness.

The murder of Mr. Carr, of Brooklyn, New York, the other day, an air gun being the fatal weapon, gives a temporary interest to the following description of this deadly instrument, which we find in the New York Times:

What is known as the "cane gun" is [illegible] tube of about three feet in length, hollowed out, and made of highly wrought iron [illegible] vided into two nearly equal lengths, the upper part toward the head forming the air chamber, and the lower half the barrel from which the projectile is discharged. Austria would like, if they dared, to make a bid. She would like better still to protest against the sale, but how can she? The Pope was not true to the Holy Roman Empire once before, and he cannot be trusted, besides Austria is weak.—Cornelius O'Dowd in Blackwood's.

Lucy Stone objects very decidedly to having her sex ranked in political importance lower than the negro. In a recent letter she says:

When the war was over and the government was to be reconstructed, we again urged our claim for suffrage by petitions, tracts, lectures, &c. What more can we do? Must every individual woman demand suffrage before any of the thousands who have demanded it, can be allowed to exercise it? "All political power inheres in the people." Women are people. "Governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed." Women are governed, and should give their consent. And suffrage is consent. The exercise of this inherent political power, of this consent of the governed, has been denied to us through no fault of ours. Are not those who have withheld it in honor bound to confer it, whether we ask for it or not? Should not good men, irrespective of party, see to it that their mothers are not placed politically lower than negroes, lower than the great mass of ignorant men who can neither read nor speak our language, and on the same level with the worst of the rebels, who are deprived of their vote as a punishment for their treason?

THE HOOSAC TUNNEL.—An Irish workman on the Hoosac tunnel, in a conversation the other day with a curious clergyman who had penetrated to the end of the great bore, advanced an argument for the enterprise that has been overlooked by its friends. "Patrick, do you think this tunnel will ever be finished?" "Sure, your honor, sure! if there's powder enough to blow it through." "But it's a long way to go." "Yes, your honor, but we've got a mile already, sir." "If you do get through, do you think it will ever pay?" "Pay? no to be sure, 'twill not pay, but 'twill be a great ornament to society, sir!"

Looking About for a Candidate.

Some of the Democratic journals which are speaking on the subject of the Presidency, are not disposed to second the proposition to bring out Jefferson Davis as a candidate, because they think their party can do better. The Evansville (Ind.) Sentinel looks to the military chief of the rebellion as a leader in the great political campaign of next year. Accordingly it comes out in favor of the nomination of "Gen" R. E. Lee. This individual, says the journal just mentioned, "is the first choice of the grand army of Democrats in the North, and they are not afraid to urge his claim before the country for the position for which God especially endowed him." This is a somewhat stronger recommendation than Davis has yet received. Is it not a significant and suggestive fact that prominent leaders of the rebellion are mentioned by the Democratic papers for the candidacy quite as often as any other persons? There can be no doubt that those papers which are bold enough and honest enough to speak out in favor of Davis or Lee, represent the backbone of their party. They speak the sentiments of a large majority of the men who voted for McClellan in 1864, and they are not inconsistent in admiring those who labored so powerfully to destroy the nation, and whom they now seek to place at its head. Speaking of Lee the Indiana paper says further, that the timid men of the party may tremble when his name is spoken, but the brave will applaud." Just so here and everywhere else. Those who take this position are brave because they are logical. They know that Davis and Lee did no more than reduce Democratic principles to practice; and whoever espouses such principles ought not be ashamed of their ablest exponents. Lee is undoubtedly an able man, and his ability is of a practical kind. Of equal distinction as a Democrat with Davis himself, he could with much propriety claim the nomination of his party. His political views are founded on that rock of Democracy, the resolutions of '98. Throughout his whole career he has been guided by them, and no one has been more consistent, or labored with more energy, in their defense. He joined the rebellion because this creed had taught him that it was his first duty to obey his State. If nominated, no doubt he would get the full vote of the Northern Democratic party.

AN OLD QUESTION REVIVED.—Our Washington Territory friends are said to be greatly elated with their railroad and commercial prospects. There are several points on the Sound, each of which has for years claimed to be the place where the great trade of the Northwest would find its centre; and this rivalship will now probably be revived with more than its old animation and bitterness. Some of the aspiring towns may by this time have entirely forgotten their old ambition, but others have held to the belief during almost a score of dreary years that a railroad would at no distant day come to their assistance across the continent. Among these points Seattle is probable the one which has held with the greatest tenacity to a belief in its future prosperity and greatness. That place appears to have always had faith in its future. It has regarded its claim to the railroad terminus as reasonably sure; and though the title to the inheritance has long been in chancery, Seattle has thought, like the wards in Jarndyce, that it must be settled sometime. Now that that the railroad project, after a long slumber, has awoke again, that place will probably grow more confident than ever. Nor are is expectations without a very substantial foundation. The Cascade mountains are pervious only in a few places. Of the several passes opening through this range from Puget Sound to the Great Bend of the Columbia, the pass east of Seattle seems most accessible and practicable. At any rate, the information hitherto attainable, appears to have established this fact. But to pass these mountains by any route which has been proposed, whether by the Columbia or the more northern passes, will be child's play compared with the work on the Union Pacific in California. In crossing the mountains to Nevada, this road attains an elevation of 7,042 feet an altitude which must be fully equal to the main ridge of the Cascade mountains.

THE BANDITS' CONVENTION.—A Copperhead Convention was announced to come off at Umatilla on the 25th. The Convention was intended simply to represent the unterrified of the eastern counties of the State. Some of the irrepressible "constitutional lawyers" of that section, whose last efforts in behalf of the Democratic cause had been put forth in searching for their "rights" along with old Price's tatterdemallions in the swamps of Missouri and Arkansas, or in the more congenial occupation of robbing and murdering loyal men for their devotion to the country, wanted an opportunity to express their opinions about the "Rump Congress," to expatiate on the unconstitutionality of everything that has been done for the last six or seven years, (excepting what was done on behalf of the Confederacy,) and to affirm anew the "rights" to which they think themselves and their fellow rebels entitled. The object was to hold a high old rebel meeting free from the interference of crafty "conservatism," where genuine "Democratic" sentiments might be expressed with unlimited freedom. But some of the politicians in this part of the State, fearing the consequences of this exhibition of pure "Democracy," thought it best to send some one up to Umatilla to hold their native enthusiasm a little in check; and accordingly one of their imported editors went up, to apply the brakes to the Umatilla Convention. Whether he succeeded is yet unknown. But if that Convention got a chance to express its real sentiments, its utterances were undoubtedly the truest emanations of genuine "Democracy" ever heard this side of Price's camp in the bogs of southwestern Missouri.

Undoubtedly the extraordinary lenity of our Government in its treatment of the leaders of the great Southern revolt, has been the means of saving the lives of some hundreds of Fenians who have fallen into British hands. The English Government became committed to a bloodless course during the progress of our conflict, and when the strife was over, the English friends of the American rebels almost came to the point of demanding that no punishment should be inflicted. Hence, when the Fenian troubles arose the English found themselves in a situation where it was necessary, for the sake of consistency, to observe their own doctrine. There can be no question but these influences operated most favorably for the Fenian prisoners. Never before has England failed to heap the fullest measure of vengeance upon political offenders.

The words of General Sheridan which give his reasons for ordering the removal of the rebel officials at New Orleans, from Governor down to Police Commissioners, are full of terrible meaning. "They made the innocent guilty, and let the murderers go free." It was for removing this class of men that Sheridan has been denounced with fiendish ferocity by a partisan press from Maine to Oregon.

TO BE BROKEN UP.—The Vancouver Register says it is generally believed in military circles that Fort Steilacoom is to be broken up very shortly. The company now stationed there will probably be ordered to Walrussia. Gen. Rousseau will be accompanied by four companies of troops, who will remain stationed there.

A Clean Sweep

Congress appears to have made short work with the objections, valid or otherwise, which have been raised against the Reconstruction Act of March 2d, and, by the law which has just been enacted, it has made a clean sweep of all the legal barriers which were being raised by the President and his friends against the peaceful progress of reconstruction in the South. The supplemental or explanatory bill seems to cover the whole case, and it is not easy to see where its execution can be hindered by the Executive or the few malcontents who yet infest the South, except the Supreme Court may hereafter interpose its authority by granting a stay of proceedings; but that contingency is very remote at present.

It is plain that the true intent of the framers of the Act of March 2d was not expressed with sufficient clearness by the law in some respects, and, though there is no excuse for the mischievous interference of Johnson with the execution of the law, it is unfortunate that the original meaning was not less ambiguous. The Attorney-General was called upon for his opinion as to the powers conferred on the military commanders by Congress, relative to removals and registration, more particularly, and though his hair-splitting and wire drawn conclusions were just the reverse of what the framers of the law intended should be the meaning of the statute, we have no right to impugn his honesty or the rectitude of his intentions. Because Congress may have blundered, we should not blame the Attorney-General for giving the opinions which the Executive required of him, and the complexion of which was determined by his own convictions. The responsibility begins back of that—with the President who listened to the querulous complaints of mischief-makers from the South, who hoped to overthrow the operation of law, and set aside the functions of a military commander by the circulation of a lawyer's opinion. If the President had been actuated by a sincere desire to expediate the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion, and carry out the plain intentions of the law making power of the Government, he never would have raised, or permitted to be raised, the technical quibbles which have necessitated the reassembling of Congress, and the decision in which has brought to a stop the process of reconstruction, heretofore being peaceably accomplished.

The President has exhibited himself to the country in the humiliating position of being on both sides of the fence at the time, for it will be recollected that when he vetoed this very bill of March 1867, one of his grounds of objection was that it gave full power to the officers commanding in the Southern Districts. To use his own words, "the power thus given to the commanding officer over all the people of each district is that of an absolute monarch. His mere will is to take place of all law." Again he said: "No master ever had a control so absolute over his slaves as this bill gives to the military officers over both white and colored persons." Yet, only a few months after, this bill, so sharply criticised and vetoed, became a law in spite of the President's disapproval, he assumes that the law confers no such powers upon the military commanders as that claimed for it. It is idle to say that the opinion contained in the veto was that of an ignorant President, and that which hampered Sheridan was the progeny of a wise Attorney General. It is plain that the President has convicted himself of the grossest inconsistency. He believed the law which he vetoed as a bill, was intended to give absolute powers to the commanding Generals in the South. He vetoed it on that ground, and then attempted to suspend its execution on the subterfuge that it did not confer such powers. Johnson's conduct in the premises, to use the mildest phrase, is disingenuous and mean.

Johnson appears to be wholly perverse and intractable. Failing to nullify the action of Congress by his vetoes, he has resorted to legal opinions, which are, after all, but technical obstacles interposed in the way of the execution of the laws, and while we may attempt to denude ourselves of any prejudice against him on account of past actions, it is impossible not to feel convinced that the man is thoroughly and entirely bad. Consumed by his own enormous egotism, he has set himself against the will of the people, and has yet once more attempted by his wilful mischief to bring discord and renewed trouble upon the nation by precipitating a new conflict between him and the nation's representatives. Fortunately, however, he is nearly powerless for evil. The bill which has just passed Congress, and will become a law, whether he likes it or not, declares the civil governments of the late rebel States, except Tennessee, illegal; it gives the power of removal and appointment of all civil officers within those States into the hands of the military commanders; it confirms removals already made and makes it the duty of district commanders to remove disloyal persons and those who hinder reconstruction; it sweeps away the fine-spun theories of the Attorney General as to who were meant by Congress in its provisions against the registry of certain persons, by declaring that the "act shall apply to all members of any State Legislature, or persons holding executive or judicial office in any State, whether he has taken the oath to support the Constitution or not, whether holding office at the commencement of the rebellion, or before, who afterwards engaged in rebellion, or gave aid and comfort to the enemies of the Government. The words "executive or judicial" include all officers created by law for administration of any general law."

It is most devoutly to be hoped that we have heard the last of these factious oppositions to the pacification and restoration of the country. It is true that such a law is distasteful, and that the occasion for its enactment is greatly to be deplored. But the necessity exists, and the people whose defeat in battle has created that necessity, have only themselves to thank for the oppressiveness of the enactment.

THE LAST STEP.—It has been a subject of surmise to those who watch the fluctuations of fashion, what could be further done in the direction of the diminuation of bonnets, now that they have been reduced to the smallest possible proportions. The matter is now decided, however. The next "sweet thing" in ladies' bonnets is—no bonnets. The Spanish mantilla is to be introduced, worn on the head, instead of on the shoulders, as has been the fashion outside of Spain until now. After that we will probably have the Mexican reboso, and that will be succeeded by the Peruvian Manta, which conceals all the female face save one eye, which is left uncovered in order to allow the lady to wink in whatever male direction her fancy may suggest. It is a pity that experiment is not busy with the male head of the period. Any change in the prevalent hat would be welcome, for no change could possibly be for worse.—N. Y. Commercial.

The following is one of a series of resolutions adopted recently at a political meeting at Lafayette:

> That the Democracy of Yamhill county is a unit in favor of the repeal of all laws tending to the degradation of the white man for the doubtful return of elevating the negro.

We hereby renew the promise we made some months ago to use our best exertions to have a "bureau" established for the protection of the Oregon Democracy in case they find themselves actually unable to stand up against negro competition.

After Louisiana seceded the Federal Government was powerless to collect duties on imports, and they were collected by the rebel authorities. About one million of dollars were paid by some twelve merchants who, thereupon took their goods from the warehouses. The records have come into the possession of the Government, and an agent of the Treasury Department has arrived at New Orleans, within a few days, with instructions to collect the import duties due on the goods in question.

PERFECTLY ENRAPTURED.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. SHANAHAN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

THE REMARKABLE PROPERTIES OF BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES have been thoroughly tested since first introduced. The demand for them has steadily increased, and purely upon their own merits, they have found favor with those who from Pulmonary, Bronchial or Asthmatic complaints require them. For Coughs and Colds they are efficacious.

DURING THE PROCESS OF TEETHING, every mother should give her child MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It relieves the child from pain, softens the gums, cures wind colic, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child. Perfectly safe in all cases, as millions of mothers can testify. Hostetter, Smith & Dean, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

THE MAN WHO SAID THE Family Dye Colors manufactured by Howe & Stevens were the greatest discovery of things for domestic use, hit the nail on the head precisely. By the same line of statement, Messrs. Howe & Stevens are among the greatest benefactors of the day. The great public evidently believe in the colors, for they are to be found in about every well regulated household in the country.—Sold by Smith & Davis.

Scorer for Clackamas nine.

Vancouver Items.—We clip the following from the Vancouver Register: The Trustees of the Vancouver Seminary are negotiating for a suitable piece of ground whereon to erect school buildings.....Colonel Hodges, Depot Quartermaster, is having offices built for the use of the Depot Commissary and his clerks.....John Tooley was at work rolling the river road one day last week, and was rolling some logs to fill up a gully, when he happened to fall down into the gully and a heavy log rolled upon him, injuring him severely. He had an almost miraculous escape from being crushed to death.....Rev. J. McCarty, D D., will preach on next Sabbath at St. Luke's P. E. church, in this city, a funeral discourse on the death of the Rt. Rev. Thomas F Scott, late Missionary Bishop of this diocese, who died on the 14th inst., at New York City.....The Base Ball mania has reached the darkies in the neighborhood. A number of them invested two bits the other day in Smith's store, with the expressed intention of "raisin a Club, by golly."

Military.—We learn from the Register that in a few days Captain Kelly with his company of the 8th U. S. Cavalry, is expected to leave this place on an expedition south via Eugene City. A pack train of about 200 mules, loaded with all kinds of Government stores and supplies, will accompany him. They are only awaiting the purchase of a few more mules, before they start.....Dr. Semple, Assistant Surgeon U. S. A., left here last Wednesday for San Juan Island, to relieve Dr. Chase, who is well known here, having formerly been stationed at this post. He will leave the service in September next, and we are informed that he will probably settle at Vancouver as a medical practitioner.....Capt. E. H. Weeks, late A. Q. M. at this post, has been ordered to report to the commanding officer of the District of New Mexico for duty.

Joss Church.—Perhaps many of our city readers may have noticed on Alder street, between First and Second, a sort of sentry-box erected on the eaves of two buildings, standing near each other and occupied by Chinese residents. It has a railing on the side toward the street, and looks as though it might have been intended for a pulpit, and such it really is, as a Chinaman informs us. We asked a Chinaman, yesterday, what it was built for. "King house," said John—"King Josh, house "—"allee same like melican pleach' house." Yo Lounge, a sort of merchant prince among the Celestials, confirms the last, and says that next month the "pleacher" will begin his ministrations. We are unable to understand, by sight, whether the audience is to occupy the street or the house-tops, as the thing points both ways.

A Fortunate Wrecker.—Mr. Watrous, who lives on Elk Creek, a few miles south of the Columbia River Bar was in town yesterday looking out for a chance to sell such of the goods as he picked up from the beach, after the wreck of the Scranton. Mr. Watrous lived several miles from any other settlers and had no information of the wreck, till upon getting up one morning, he found piled on the beach near his house, no less than seven barrels of liquor and enough other stuff, as he expressed it, "to stock a very fair whiskey store." Upon seeing the piles of goods he said he thought a certain region reputed to be extremely sultry, had "broke loose." He says he got the stuff up, and afterward purchased the interest of the underwriters, and now he wants to sell.

Circuit Court—Shattuck, Judge.—The following are the proceedings of Friday, July 26th:

Henry W. Eddy vs. A. L. Marshall; action on two promissory notes; judgment by confession for plaintiff in sum of $1,383 65, gold coin.

First National Bank of Portland vs. J. D. Tackleberry, George Hain, et al; action on promissory note; judgment by default for plaintiff in sums of $650 and $16, coin.

Georgianna Fickle vs. Jacob Fickle; divorce of plaintiff from defendant, granted; plaintiff awarded the custody of Cora Bella, infant child.

John A. Carr vs. John Monroe; case will be submitted to the jury this morning.

State Teachers' Institute.—The State Teachers' Institute will open its next annual session in this city on the 30th inst. See Mr. Frambes' advertisement and notice to teachers. The sessions of the Institute have always been interesting and profitable, no doubt, to those engaged in the profession of educators, and the approaching session will probably be no exception in that respect. The Institute has recently lost, in the death of Bishop Scott, one of its most earnest members and one of its founders. He presided during most of the time over the assemblage of teachers at Salem in the summer of 1862, which finally crystallized into the State Teachers' Institute.

Portland Academy.—The closing exercises of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary took place last evening at the M. E. Church, on account of its greater capacity and being more convenient of access to visitors. The church was well filled, and the exercises were in the main of an interesting character, consisting of music, orations, declamations, recitations, reading of compositions, etc. Many of the students acquitted themselves creditably but we have no time or space to particularize. At the conclusion the school joined in singing "Dearest Home," and under the circumstances of parting, made the close rather impressive.

Sugar.—There was some excitement in sugar yesterday. In the morning dealers were looking for an advance in consequence of the refineries refusing to take orders in advance. In our market report which closed at 2 o'clock P. M., we mentioned the expectation of an advance. At a subsequent hour private telegrams were received from San Francisco, advising merchants that the advance had taken place, and we accordingly revised the report.... The figures in the report show the state of the market at the close of the day.

Buoys.—The Willamette Iron Works are executing a contract for six large buoys for marking the channel of the Columbia river through what is known as Cathlamet bay. The work and the anchors look as though they would stay wherever put. The Couch took down last Monday, one of the buoys, and on next Monday will take another. Two others are nearly completed, and the whole six will be finished and anchored in the channel within a few days.

Base Ball Amenities.—Members of the Pioneers who went to Vancouver, yesterday, speak in high terms of the "social amenities" of the game and the subsequent intercourse of the two clubs. A dinner was served by the Occidentals, with the Clackamas Club and members of the Pioneers and Wide Awakes as guests. The victorious nine were justly exultant at their success but they indulged in no vain-glories, and so everything was lovely, etc.

Great Reduction in Prices.—Messrs. Kast & Caballin, intending to remove to a new place of business, are offering their large stock of boots and shoes, of all descriptions, at prices reduced from twenty-five to forty per cent. If people cannot be suited with the goods at the prices now charged by Messrs. K & C., then, all we have to say is, that the people are hard to suit. Take a good square look at their advertisement, this morning.

Not So.—Portland got into a paroxysm, yesterday, over the report that Sam. Smith had sold the Western Hotel. Upon being asked whether it were true, Sam, said he guessed not; he hadn't heard anything about it, and he rather thought if it had happened, he would have heard of it about as soon as anybody. Samuel, however, has bought Mr. Grover's fine residence and has taken ... ion.

From Astoria.—A friend at Astoria sends us word by the Fideliter that a gay party lately made an excursion to the Beach House; that the frame of the Congregational church has been raised without an accident; that Mercer is breaking up the Sylvia de Grace, that the gulls have ceased to be troublesome, and that if Astoria has not got a base ball club, it is liable to have one any day.

Recorder's Court.—The Recorder was called upon yesterday morning to settle a difficulty between a couple of persons about the ownership of a stove. One had purchased it of the other and then failed to get it, whereupon he brought a charge of larceny. The Recorder could see nothing in the case that looked like larceny, and discharged the defendant—Charles Bury.

Auction Sale.—Mr. A. B. Richardson, auctioneer, will sell to-day a large lot of statuary and some fine furniture. The goods to be offered are much finer than the usual average, and there will be a chance for bargains. It is expected that Richardson will be eloquent to-day, beyond all late precedent. Go and hear him.

Another Game on Monday.—In pursuance of arrangements heretofore made, the Wide Awake B. B. Club will go to Vancouver on Monday for the purpose of playing a game against the Occidentals. We learn that the challenge to the Pioneers from the Occidentals has been withdrawn for the present.

Corner Stone.—The corner-stone of the M. E. Church will be laid on Tuesday. So Mr Nester informs us. We are not, however, yet able to state what ceremonies will be observed.

Pioneers.—The Pioneer B. B. Club will meet for practice this afternoon at half past 5 o'clock. The Secretary wishes us to say that all members are requested to be on hand.

Horse Race.—A race between the horse known as Bull of the Woods and the Gurley Mare, for $50 a side, will be run at 3 P. M. to-day over the River Side Track.

Distinguished Visitor.—Rev. D. A. Dryden, of the California M. E. Conference, is expected to sail to-day per steamer Oriflamme, for Portland.

Sails To-Day.—The Oriflamme will sail to-day at 10 o'clock from San Francisco, for this port.

State Teachers' Institute.—The Oregon State Teachers' Institute and Educational Association will hold its annual session in Portland, commencing on Tuesday, July 30th. The teachers and all others interested in the cause of education, are cordially invited to be present and participate in the exercises. Those wishing to find homes during their stay at the Institute will please report themselves to the undersigned at the corner of Taylor and Park streets. O. S. FRAMBES, Rec Sec'y.

A Splendid Instrument.—We saw, yesterday, at J. L. Parrish & Co's something now in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Knee or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance: from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. The Key-Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish, have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $500. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

First National Bank of Idaho—Boise City, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. DuRell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The Retort.

Old Birch, who taught the village school,
Wedded a maid of homespun habit,
He was stubborn as a mule,
And she was playful as a rabbit
Poor Kate had scarce become a wife
Before her husband sought to make her
The pink of country polished life
And prim and formal as a Quaker.

One day the tutor went abroad,
And simple Katie sadly missed him,
When he returned, behind her lord
She slyly stole and fondly kissed him;
The husband's anger rose, and red
And white his face alternate grew!
"Less freedom, ma'am!" Kate sighed and said,
"Oh, dear! I didn't know 'twas you!"

"Puritanism."

The papers which habitually abuse what they call Puritanism are very fond of seizing upon unusual any atrocious crime which is committed in New England, and declaring that such is Puritan morality. The implication is, that the moral influences and efforts which proceed from that quarter are hypocritical. Indeed, nothing is more comical than to read the objurgations poured out upon a New England sinner by those who contemplated the plantation life of slavery and the daily history of Andersonville with perfect complacency. We have been ourselves often favored by the zealous with a list of "Yankee enormities," which they informed us, with burning sarcasm, that it would be well to illustrate; and we remember to have seen a list of some dozen offences, which was diligently published in the rebel and Copperhead newspapers, as peculiarly fit subjects for the artists of Harper's Weekly. Among those suggestive subjects, however, we do not recall that the sale of one's children by another man's wife, or the hiring out of other men's labor, or the whipping of women, or a hundred not exceptional but constant and characteristic incidents of a religion and system which denied human right, were included.

When, for instance, we publish a representation of the scarred and welted back of a freedman, it was not the story of a single crime but of a criminal system, of horrors which are inevitable in any society in which men and women are abandoned to the passions of others. Now the test of the moral condition of a community is not crime which is common to all communities, but the feeling with which it is regarded. If there be no especial abhorrence of the worst offenses, it is fair to assume a general demoralization. Apply this test to a "Puritan" and a "Cavalier" community, what do we find? A few months since the sarcastic critic published the story of the savage or insane clergyman who beat his child to death as if it were an illustration of a certain state of society. If he were not insane it was an unspeakable crime, and it was so denounced everywhere. Or take the late case in Massachusetts of Sprono Howe, a clergyman always of good reputation, a man of ability, and a member of the Legislature. The Copperhead papers cried out as if they had at last discovered the real tendency of Massachusetts civilization. But the truth was that public indignation was so aroused and universal that Howe was obliged to fly on the very night of his exposure; the next day he sent in his resignation to the astounded Legislature, then disappeared, and has not since been heard of.

Howe's offences were indescribable; but bad as they were, can anything be worse than to seduce other men's wives and sell their children? Massachusetts instinctively spewed out Howe. When did public opinion in any slave State ever exile a man who sold other men's children? The reason is, that the Puritan civilization does not generate criminals like Howe, while those of the other kind were the natural and necessary product of the Southern social system. Under New England influences the pangs of Andersonville are absolutely impossible. In the region where they occurred they were merely natural. When, therefore, you find a paper that gloats over the fierce punishment of a pupil by a New England teacher or the poisoning of the family coffee by a New England servant, or the overwhelming shame of a New England clergyman, events wholly exceptional, ask yourself what that paper used to say of the daily and necessary crimes of the slave system, what it said of Andersonville, what it said of the treatment of the Southern negroes after the war. Such critics expose every blot in the civilization of liberty that the foulness of the social spirit they defend may seem less hideous.—Harper's Weekly.

MINING ACCIDENT.—At Virginia (Nev.), July [illegible], a man named Williams, who attends to the [illegible]-shaft in the Crown Point mine, was instantly killed by falling a distance of 410 feet—from the first station to the bottom of the shaft. He was a man that weighed about 180 pounds, and so great was his fall that his body broke a three-inch plank that lay across the shaft at one of the stations—the men standing by that station [illegible] to see what kind of a weight it was that [illegible] fully split the thick cross-timber. The body was so horribly mangled that it had to be [illegible] up in a double blanket.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, P. M.,
July 26, 1867.

The [illegible] in New York is under date of yesterday at [illegible]; Legal [illegible] in San Francisco [illegible] buying and [illegible] selling.

The general tone of the jobbing market, though a fair amount of business has been transacted during the week. The general range of prices remains unchanged. [illegible] there is a better feeling in regard [illegible] of a firmer market in San Francisco and an advance in New York. At the beginning of this month, flour ruled, for low as [illegible] in New York, for the best brands of California; recent quotations by telegraph are highest $15 00. This, in the advent of an unusually plenteous harvest in the east, may be taken as evidence of permanent good prices. A letter to Messrs. Allen & Lewis from their correspondent in New York, under date of June 20th, says: "The Standard Mills is the best brand of flour ever received here from California." This may be taken as applicable, also, to all the first brands of Oregon. It is spoken of as "received from California," because most of the shipments of Oregon flour have been from San Francisco shippers. The same letter speaks of some lots having been damaged by rough handling and says: "No flour should be shipped in old gunnies, and only two bags in a linen sack." Many lots have been shipped with three quarter sacks in a gunny, and these are probably the lots referred to as having received damage. Such packages are too heavy for handling with safety. The advices from New York are that "Standard" and other first-class Oregon brands average in the New York market about $1 00 higher than "Golden State," (San Francisco city brand). The latter is quoted now at $15.

For bacon, sides, there is some inquiry and the market may be said to be firm at quotations. Hams are very scarce. Under a bare market and a strong demand, prices have again materially advanced. We quote at 15 @18c for choice lots. All offers are readily taken at the inside figure.

No change in hardware or agricultural goods. Business dull.

Wholesale grocers are not disposed to complain of the week's sales. Sugars are firm at quotations and an advance is expected of at least one-half cent, as the refiners refuse to receive orders in advance. Low grade Island sugars are scarce at 10½@11c. The Fideliter, which arrived this morning, brought about three hundred kegs from Victoria, which leaves that market nearly bare.

Trade with Eastern Oregon and Idaho has improved slightly. The ruling rates of freight from Umatilla to points in the interior were as follows on the 23d inst.;

To Boise City, Ox Team, 4½c; Mule Team, 5c.
" Idaho City, " " 6½c; " " 7c.
" Owyhee, " " 6½c; " " 7c.
" Auburn, " " 3. " "
" La Grande, " " 2; " " 2¼c.

Rates to Placerville and Pioneer City same as to Idaho City. Freights to Owyhee payable in bar. Pack trains asking one cent advance on the above rates.

On the 22d the rates of freight from Wallula were as follows:

To Boise City, per ox team, payable in dust, 6 cents; per mule team, 6 cents.
To Idaho City, by teams, payable in dust, 6½ cents; by trains, 8 cents.
To Pen D'Oreille Lake or Colville, by trains, 6 cents; by teams, 4 cents.
To Helena, M. T., by trains, 14 cents.
To Missoula, M. T., by trains, 9 cents.

Freighting dull; large supplies of transportation in the country.

Weekly Retail Family Market.

PORTLAND, July 26, 1867.

Trade very quiet. Green apples, pears and plums have made their first appearance in the market this season. Owing to the very heavy crops in prospective, they rule low. Provisions are without particular change. Hams are scarce for the moment. Eggs are in good demand; good fresh find ready sale at 25 cents; old eggs are not wanted, and dealers are very shy in purchasing those that are doubtful, preferring to pay from 3 to 5 cents more for strictly fresh ones. Vegetables continue plentiful and cheap. Poultry is in good demand. Game is scarce and wanted.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Consultations FREE.

DR. HENLEY'S

Fountain of Life!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARrive when a new direction is imparted to its course. These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance.

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world. No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept into their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial, and not been found wanting.

☞ Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world, and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made —provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured.

FOR REFERENCE:

I would refer you to L. L. Peck, of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.
